

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, July 10. 1703.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 5.

Ratibon, June 25.

ON Friday last the Minister of the Elector of Mentz gave in a Proposal, that a Resolution should be taken by the Diet to oblige the several States of the Empire, not only to furnish instantly their respective Contingents, but to give an Account to him the said Minister (as Director of the Diet) what Number of Men they have already and shall hereafter actually send into the Field from time to time, and to what part of the Empire they are sent. The Deputies came to no Resolution on this Proposal, the greatest part of them insisting, that first of all Care should be taken to provide for the Security and Freedom of the Diet; pretending to be more Sollicitous now than formerly, seeing the Elector of Bavaria has thought fit to signify, that he will have no regard whether the Emperor's Ratification (of the Agreement made some time since, between his Electoral Highness and the Diet, for the Security of the Diet and this City) come or not.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 12.

Ratibon, July 2. The Landgrave of Hesse Cassel has sent Instructions to his Deputy, to continue here with the rest of the Protestant Deputies, and not to give his Consent to the Removal of the Diet to any other Place: The Deputy of the Elector of Brandenburg has receiv'd like Instructions; and most of the other Deputies who were order'd some time ago to Vote for removing the Diet from hence, have receiv'd fresh Orders to continue here. The Elector of Bavaria gives out, that he has intercepted a Letter, by which he has discover'd that the Emperor has a Design to possess himself of this Place, and accordingly has given secret Orders to Prince Lewis of Baden; Hereupon the Partisans of that Elector talk publickly, that his Highness must be excus'd if he take proper Measures to frustrate such a Design, and to make his Advantage of the Footing he has already in this City. The Deputy of the Elector of Brandenburg receiv'd Letters by last Post from Berlin, advising him that the 7000 Men which his Prussian Majesty has promis'd to send to the Upper Rhine, are not only already on their March; but that his said Majesty would endeavour to procure some Troops of the Circle of Westphalia to be joyn'd with them, to make up together 10 or 12000 Men; which the said Deputy is order'd to notify to the Diet.
